(d) NORMALIZATION REQUIREMENTS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—A normalization method of accounting shall not be treated as being used with respect to any public utility property for purposes of section 167 or 168 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 if the taxpayer, in computing its cost of service for ratemaking purposes and reflecting operating results in its regulated books of account, reduces the excess tax reserve more rapidly or to a greater extent than such reserve would be reduced under the average rate assumption method.

(2) ALTERNATIVE METHOD FOR CERTAIN TAXPAYERS.—If, as of the first day of the taxable year that includes the date of enactment of this Act—

(A) the taxpayer was required by a regulatory agency to compute depreciation for public utility property on the basis of an average life or composite rate method, and

(B) the taxpayer's books and underlying records did not contain the vintage account data necessary to apply the average rate assumption method, the taxpayer will be treated as using a normalization method of accounting if, with respect to such jurisdiction, the taxpayer uses the alternative method for public utility property that is subject to the regulatory authority of that jurisdiction.

(3) DEFINITIONS.—For purposes of this subsection—

(A) EXCESS TAX RESERVE.—The term “excess tax reserve” means the excess of—

(i) the reserve for deferred taxes (as described in section 168(i)(9)(A)(ii) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986) as of the day before the corporate rate reductions provided in the amendments made by this section take effect, over

(ii) the amount which would be the balance in such reserve if the amount of such reserve were determined by assuming that the corporate rate reductions provided in this Act were in effect for all prior periods.

(B) AVERAGE RATE ASSUMPTION METHOD.—The average rate assumption method is the method under which the excess in the reserve for deferred taxes is reduced over the remaining lives of the property as used in its regulated books of account which gave rise to the reserve for deferred taxes. Under such method, during the time period in which the timing differences for the property reverse, the amount of the adjustment to the reserve for the deferred taxes is calculated by multiplying—

(i) the ratio of the aggregate deferred taxes for the property to the aggregate timing differences for the property as of the beginning of the period in question, by

(ii) the amount of the timing differences which reverse during such period.

(C) ALTERNATIVE METHOD.—The “alternative method” is the method in which the taxpayer—

(i) computes the excess tax reserve on all public utility property included in the plant account on the basis of the weighted average life or composite rate used to compute depreciation for regulatory purposes, and

(ii) reduces the excess tax reserve ratably over the remaining regulatory life of the property.

(4) TAX INCREASED FOR NORMALIZATION VIOLATION.—If, for any taxable year ending after the date of the enactment of this Act, the taxpayer does not use a normalization method of accounting for the corporate rate reductions provided in the amendments made by this section—

(A) the taxpayer's tax for the taxable year shall be increased by the amount by which it reduces its excess tax reserve more rapidly than permitted under a normalization method of accounting, and

(B) such taxpayer shall not be treated as using a normalization method of accounting for purposes of subsections (f)(2) and (i)(9)(C) of section 168 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

MOTION TO CONCUR

Mr. BRADY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I have a motion at the desk.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will designate the motion.

The text of the motion is as follows:

Mr. Brady of Texas moves that the House concur in the Senate amendment to H.R. 1.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 668, the gentleman from Texas (Mr. BRADY) and the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. NEAL) each will control 10 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Texas.

Mr. BRADY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, both the House and now the Senate have taken action on legislation to reform America's Tax Code for the first time in 31 years. Unfortunately, two targeted provisions did not meet Senate rules and had to be removed.

Today, the process continues to move forward, and, with this vote, it will be the House, the people's House, that officially sends this historic legislation to President Trump's desk.

I know the American people are excited. More than that, I know they are feeling a sense of relief. They are relieved that, for the first time in years, they are going to see more money in their paychecks that they can keep.

Think about that middle-income family of four, earning $70,000 a year. These are working families, and the tax cut of more than $2,000 they will see under this bill, that $2,000 is real money. It is real money these families worked hard to earn, but, until now, they have had to send it to Washington instead of being able to use it for their own needs, whether that is paying bills, saving for the future, or putting new tires on a car.

Think about the relief our job creators and our workers will feel. For so long, Americans have barely seen any growth in their paychecks, yet they are going to their jobs every day, and they are working harder than ever.

With this bill, that hard work is finally going to be rewarded, and we are going to see the growth of jobs and paychecks like we haven't seen in years.

For our businesses, large and small, no matter if they are a small startup with just three workers or a large company with 3,000, they are finally going to have a Tax Code that works with them as they grow, innovate, and invest in our communities. They are going to see relief from complexity and the high rates and the feeling they are always having to compete with one hand tied behind their back.

For all these Americans, all the hard-working men, women, and families who bring life to our communities and to our economy, I think the major source of relief is knowing that, starting in the new year, none of us has to accept this broken Tax Code and this slow-growth status in America any longer.

With the new tax system we will deliver today, things will change for the better, and they will change immediately. This new Tax Code will be simple, it will be fair, and it will be focused on the needs of the American people, not on Washington's special interests.

This new Tax Code will be modern. It will be competitive. It will create more good-paying jobs right here in our communities, not drive them overseas. Above all, this new Tax Code, America's Tax Code, will not belong to the special interests anymore. It will belong to the American people. It will help more Americans realize their own American Dream, whatever that may be. For all the Americans who struggle and who have been left behind under today's broken Tax Code, that has to be the biggest relief of all.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NEAL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. PELOSI), the distinguished leader of the Democratic Party.

Ms. PELOSI. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me time, and, once again, I commend him for being a champion of middle class families.

I want my colleagues all to hear the esteem in which we hold our Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee. I thank you. Thank you very much, Mr. NEAL, for being our ranking member and for your extraordinary leadership on behalf of America's middle class working families, and that includes millions of veterans. Thank you.

Mr. Speaker, today is a very sad day in the history of America because we have, on the floor, probably the worst bill in recent time to come to the floor. That doesn't mean it doesn't have stiff competition from other legislation the Republicans have brought to the floor, but this is the worst because so many people are affected in such a negative way and because trillions of dollars of impact on our economy have been voted upon without any hearing, without any hearing from the people who will be most affected by it—no hearings, no experts, no listening to the American people.

Yesterday, our Republican colleagues stood on this floor and voted for a GOP tax scam that the American people oppose 2 to 1. Our Republican colleagues stood on the floor and cheered. They cheered a bill that will raise taxes on 86 million middle class families and hand a staggering 83 percent of its tax cuts to the wealthiest 1 percent.

Shamefully, the Republicans were cheering against the children as they robbed from their future and ransacked the middle class to reward the rich.

Today, the Republicans take their victory lap for successfully pillaging the American middle class to benefit the powerful and the privileged.

I come to the floor with stories of men and women and children that Republicans shamefully cheered against yesterday.

Yesterday, I wish the Republicans had heard, as we did, the story of Ady Barkan, 30 years old, father of a beautiful baby son, and Ady is suddenly stricken with ALS, 30 years old.

From his wheelchair, with a strong but wavering voice, he begged Congress not to pass this bill. He pleaded with anyone who would listen not to vote for this tax scam that will raise his health benefits and condemn Medicaid to devastating cuts as the logical next step. He has been lobbying on Capitol Hill against this bill for a while. Ady said yesterday it would do so much damage.

It would deprive me of the Medicaid I need to stay alive a little longer and see baby Carl learn to read and teach him how to play chess and watch him go to first grade.

But Republicans didn't listen, said "no," and cheered.

Yesterday, we heard the story, and I wish our Republican friends could have heard it, of Laura Hatcher, mother of sweet and kind 11-year-old Simon, one of the Little Lobbyists.

Simon has a rare disease and cerebral palsy. His mother spoke of how their family watches the Muppet version of "A Christmas Carol" and how Simon sees himself in Tiny Tim, another kind boy with braces on his legs. Unfortunately, this story, as of today, does not have the same kind of happy ending as "A Christmas Carol."

But the story is not over, and like Tiny Tim, Simon and his family now find their future in danger because of the greed of those with power, the cruelty that is in the heart of the tax scam.

As Simon's mother, Laura, said:

Very soon I could, once again, be facing a future where I don't know how I will be able to care for my child. This is a thought I simply find too difficult to bear.

Since you didn't hear yesterday, I will go on to say what she said.

We parents of medically complex kids understand consequences. We know what will happen if this tax bill passes, if our country does not turn from this destructive and immoral path.

But the Republicans didn't listen. They said "no," and they cheered. They cheered against Simon because Republicans value the wishes of the special interest lobbyists over the Little Lobbyists, the voices of Little Lobbyists, sick children standing up for themselves and for their siblings, children standing with their siblings.

Yesterday, we heard from faith leaders, too. They implored Congress to reject this bill that punishes working families and rewards the wealthiest 1 percent.

I repeat: 83 percent of the benefits go to the top 1 percent; 86 million American working middle class families will have their taxes raised.

Sister Simone said she wept for the fact that our Representatives are not weeping over the damage they are doing to families across America.

They challenged us to honor our faith in this holy season, to remember that our first responsibility is to those who have the least, not to enrich those who are already privileged and powerful.

They challenged us to heed not only the message of Christmas, but to remember the words of Jesus enshrined in the Gospel of Matthew.

But Republicans didn't listen. They said "no." They cheered. They cheered. They cheered against little Simon. They cheered against Ady Barkan. They cheered against people in need.

The GOP tax scam is a monumental con job, but who got conned? President Trump will sign the bill whenever he signs it. I know it is supposed to be today, but I hear the special interests are weighing in for him to delay it for some reason or another.

President Trump will sign a bill that betrays the promises he made in the campaign.

President Trump promised to eliminate the carried interest loophole; yet the Republicans wrote a tax scam that not only continues this outrageous loophole, but it gives even more loopholes to the wealthy and well connected.

President Trump promised to stop corporations from shipping jobs overseas, but Republicans wrote a tax scam that gives corporate America even bigger incentives to ship jobs overseas.

President Trump promised tax reform focused on middle class families, tax breaks for middle class families. Republicans wrote a tax scam that raises taxes on 86 million middle class families in our country.

President Trump promised he would protect Medicare, Medicaid, and Social Security, but Republicans wrote a tax plan to explode the deficit and use it as an excuse to cut Medicare and Medicaid. They have made no secret of their plans. They have even said this week, to raise the Social Security age.

So who got conned? Did the people get conned by the promises? Did the President get conned by the Republicans? Is he signing a bill that betrays his promises to the American people?

It is all about the Republicans in Congress. They have in their DNA trickle-down economics. Tax breaks for the rich, tax breaks for corporations, and the former Speaker even said: If trickle-down creates jobs, that would be good. If it doesn't, so be it. That is the free market.

As Republicans head to the White House for their victory lap, hopefully they won't trip over the wheelchair of Ady Barkan and other Americans with preexisting conditions.

I caution them not to trip over the wheelchair of Simon Hatcher and other children with severe medical needs. They will be in the path of your victory lap.

Don't trip over the sisters and brothers and mothers and fathers who tend to the health and well-being of their sick children and their siblings and who will not stop fighting to protect them.

I told you yesterday in a public forum:

I caution you not to get in the way of a mother and father of a child with special needs and disabilities or extreme medical conditions. They will do anything to protect that child, and they notice what you are doing here.

As you are on this victory lap, you will probably have to put on earphones so you can block out the pleas of faith leaders speaking up for hardworking American families.

I know the Republicans want to talk so they can't hear the truth about their bill, but the American people won't forget the false representations you have made. They won't forget how loudly you cheered when you hurt their families, their children with special needs, their families struggling to attain some financial stability.

And why? These people say to me: How could they be so cruel as to put the health provision in this bill that would possibly eliminate 13 million people from the rolls of health insurance? How could they do that? Why did they do that?

Why? The answer is always the same: to give them room to give tax breaks to the wealthiest people in our country and to corporate America, unpaid for, permanently.

Our distinguished colleague from Massachusetts will show his credit card again today. They are putting this bill on a credit card that our children are going to have to pay for, robbing from their future.

This holiday they are talking about giving people a Christmas present? Well, Joe Sixpack, whom the President said he was there to help, and I hope that that is true, Joe Sixpack will be delivering the champagne to their parties. That is how this is. This isn't about anything better for working class families. This is about champagne glasses clinking and wealthy families across the country.

I don't begrudge them their success or their wealth or their achievement. I just don't want to see it at the exploitation of America's working families.

Shame on you for voting for this outrageous theft from the American middle class.

Mr. Speaker, once again, I urge my colleagues to do the right thing in this people's House and vote "no" on behalf of the American people.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Members are reminded to direct their remarks to the Chair.

Mr. BRADY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, we hear a lot of false claims these days by opponents of tax reform. We hear that this isn't relief for the middle class, that people will see their taxes increase. But the Tax Policy Center, the most liberal economic group there is, just grudgingly admitted yesterday that 90 percent of Americans will see real tax cuts in this Tax Cuts and Jobs Act. In fact, the only ones who won't are the one-tenth of 1 percent who could.

We hear today about betrayal. Well, let's talk about that.

This tax reform bill doubles the child tax credit and expands it to nearly four times as many Americans, helping them with the expensive costs of childcare. Democrats oppose helping our parents raise their children. That is betrayal.

□ 1215

In this tax reform bill, we increase the amount of medical expenses Americans can write off—medical expenses driven up by ObamaCare. Democrats oppose helping families write off these costs. That is betrayal.

Now we are expanding the number of Americans who can, and how much, give in charity to our churches and to their causes. Democrats oppose helping people give to the community and to the causes they believe in. That is betrayal.

In this bill, we, for the first time, allow families who are saving for their kids' future to be able to use that and transfer it to the new ABLE accounts because their child has special needs and may need help throughout their life. Democrats oppose letting families save for their disabled children's future. That is betrayal.

Then we hear over and over again how some stand for small business, our Main Street businesses. Republicans, for the first time ever, provide a 20 percent deduction for our Main Street and small businesses across America. Democrats oppose helping our Main Street businesses. That is betrayal.

For too long, we have watched our jobs move overseas. This changes. This tax cut bill brings those jobs back and, more importantly, allows our companies, when they compete and win around the world, to bring those dollars back to be reinvested in our communities, in jobs, in manufacturing, and in research. Democrats oppose bringing jobs back to America and bringing those dollars back to reinvest in our community. Mr. Speaker, that is betrayal.

At the end of the day, we have a choice. Do we give back to families, parents, small businesses, and to America the hope and opportunity of a new economy driven by what is important to them, not what is important to special interests in Washington, D.C.?

That is what this bill is all about.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NEAL. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 1 minute.

Mr. Speaker, the President just said in the last few minutes that the most important part of this legislation is the corporate tax cuts.

Stop the nonsense that you are doing this for the middle class.

In the 20 hours that have elapsed, Mr. Speaker, since we last had this debate, we were promised a number of things. The only thing they left out was that this tax bill was going to stem the tides, take us to Mars tomorrow, and the Cleveland Browns were going to win the Super Bowl.

The certainty of what they are telling us—if the stockmarket goes up, then they did it. The stockmarket has been going up since March of 2009. They talk about economic growth. Economic growth has now proceeded for 88 straight months. They keep telling us the rocket is about to launch because of this tax bill.

Do you know what is great about this, Mr. Speaker?

Reporters outside are starting to ask: Are you going to help them out if all of these things don't occur in the way they have said they are going to occur?

I said: After the appropriate period of review.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BRADY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NEAL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. HOYER), who is the Democratic whip.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Speaker, the other thing that the chairman did not say is that, after your last round of tax cuts, we had the deepest recession anybody in this body has experienced, starting in December 2007, when you had the Presidency, the House, and the Senate. You are at it again.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in sadness and disappointment that the House passed such an irresponsible, dangerous, and debt-exploding legislation yesterday. We should be better than this. We should be more responsible than this.

This bill gives 83 percent of its benefits to just 1 percent of the richest Americans.

Why didn't we have it reversed and give 83 percent to the people you talk about, Mr. Chairman?

It takes 13 million people off their health insurance coverage and it raises the deficit by $1.5 trillion.

There can be little doubt that the majority party is fixated on cutting taxes for the richest in our country.

Defeat this bill. Do right by the American people.

Mr. BRADY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 1 minute.

Mr. Speaker, let's talk deficits. Our Democrat opponents just hate the thought that we would give Americans back what they earned.

In 2009, when President Obama lifted the national debt by $1.6 trillion—more than this tax bill—they cheered. In the next year, when President Obama raised the national debt by almost $2 trillion in 1 year, they cheered. Three more times, President Obama and Democrats raised our national debt more than $1 trillion every year. And now—now—they oppose it.

Why?

Because that was about Washington spending your money. This is about giving it back to the American people, and now, suddenly, you object.

Two trillion dollars of deficit in 1 year.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NEAL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 30 seconds to the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. LEVIN), who is the longest-serving member of the Ways and Means Committee.

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. Speaker, if you will listen, this bill is trickle-down at its worst. Except for the very wealthy trickle, it is, at best, a trickle; and for millions, not even that; and for the economy at large, a discredited theory. It is a deficit time bomb.

The Speaker said to the middle class: Don't worry, the expiring tax cuts will surely be extended.

That means the real deficit from this bill is $2.5 trillion, a humongous deficit wrapped in your hypocrisy—in your hypocrisy.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Members are again reminded that they should address their remarks to the Chair.

Mr. BRADY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. BARR).

Mr. BARR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to applaud the great work of the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, my good friend from Texas (Mr. BRADY) for his good work to overhaul America's Tax Code to deliver historic tax relief for workers, families, and job creators.

I resent the rhetoric from some of my friends on the other side of the aisle who talk about this as hurting disabled families. I am the brother of a disabled sister, and I am voting for this bill because it helps families with loved ones with disabilities, like expanding the ABLE Act.

I thank Chairman BRADY for working with me and others to address a provision in the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act, which would negatively impact work-study colleges, such as Berea College in my district.

The gentleman has fulfilled his commitment to me to fix this problem in the conference committee for work-study colleges and other small schools so that their endowments would be exempt from the excise tax on large college endowments.

Regrettably, last night, Senate Democrats used procedural rules to insist that this exemption be stripped out of the final conference report. It is unfortunate that they put partisan politics ahead of ensuring that students—many of whom are low-income and first-generation college students—at work-study colleges would continue to be able to receive a tuition-free education.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. BRADY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentleman from Kentucky.

Mr. BARR. Mr. Speaker, these are first-generation college students who receive a tuition-free education.

I know that Chairman BRADY shares my commitment and that of Chairman ROGERS, Senator MCCONNELL, and others to make sure that Berea College and other work-study colleges continue their important mission.

Accordingly, I ask the gentleman's commitment to work with me to permanently exempt work-study colleges from the excise tax on endowment income in a timely manner, in the tax extenders, or another appropriate legislative vehicle as soon as possible.

Mr. BRADY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I thank Mr. BARR for his leadership. The gentleman is correct, Senate Democrats stripped this out. I am committed to working with the gentleman to find a permanent solution to this problem as soon as possible.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NEAL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 30 seconds to the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. LEWIS), who is an extraordinary man. Our friend is the ranking member of the Oversight Subcommittee.

Mr. LEWIS of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, yesterday, taxpayers stood up and spoke out against Republicans lining the pockets of their donors by any means necessary.

Did you hear their cries? Can you feel their pain?

You did not, Mr. Speaker. You chose to turn a deaf ear and a blind eye to their hopes and their dreams.

This bill is a shame and a disgrace.

Mr. Speaker, I urge each of you to be on the side of the people, on the side of history, and to vote against this bill.

Mr. BRADY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NEAL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 30 seconds to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DOGGETT), who is a valued member of the Ways and Means Committee and the ranking member of the Tax Policy Subcommittee.

Mr. DOGGETT. Mr. Speaker, we are here solely because of Republican blunders. Hardly the first blunder. Many more blunders will need correcting from this trumped-up partisan bill.

If President Trump blunders into signing it today, it will trigger $25 billion in Medicare cuts.

This sad bill is left without any name. Like other towers, this towering monstrosity should be called "Trump"—the "Trump Inequality Act," the "Trump Family Enrichment Act," or perhaps just call it the "Whopper" because it is a lie wrapped in lies.

The truth will eventually catch up with these lies.

Mr. BRADY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NEAL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 30 seconds to the gentleman from California (Mr. THOMPSON), who is a Vietnam veteran and a distinguished member of the Ways and Means Committee.

Mr. THOMPSON of California. Mr. Speaker, this is one of the most important bills that any of us will ever vote on—no hearings, no expert witnesses—and now we get 30 seconds on the floor to debate it.

So let me just use my 30 seconds to say that this is a bad bill for working families. It is going to cause middle class working families to pay more in taxes. It is going to strap our citizens with $2.3 trillion more of national debt. I ask for a "no" vote.

Mr. BRADY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NEAL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from New York (Mr. CROWLEY), who is the chairman of the Democratic Caucus and a valued member of the Ways and Means Committee.

Mr. CROWLEY. Mr. Speaker, a revote—a revote—within less than 24 hours of original passage. This proves that this bill is rotten to its core.

But here is what the Republicans aren't going to fix:

They didn't fix the fact that this bill won't provide economic security to hardworking families.

They didn't fix the fact that this bill will subsidize mansions for the wealthy, not renters or first-time home buyers.

They didn't fix the fact that it won't help families save for education or their retirement.

They didn't fix the fact that it will saddle our grandchildren with $2 trillion of debt.

Mr. Speaker, this bill is not an investment in hardworking men and women or Americans. In fact, it rips healthcare from 13 million Americans. It is an investment in the GOP's base—corporate special interests—the wealthiest among the wealthiest, and the entire Trump empire. This bill is a political calculation they think will get them a win on election day.

But be warned: Americans are fed up and fired up. They know their cronies are laughing all the way to the bank. But the American people are organizing all the way to November.

Mr. BRADY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NEAL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 30 seconds to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. DANNY K. DAVIS), who is a champion of any and all things Chicago.

Mr. DANNY K. DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, think of Robin Hood in reverse: take from the poor and give to the rich.

When you take away social safety net programs and when you take away Medicare and Medicaid, then it reminds me of Marie Antoinette. When the people had no bread, she said: Let them eat cake.

I was opposed to this before it was released, I was opposed yesterday, I will be opposed tomorrow, and I will be opposed next week. It is no good for the American people.

Mr. BRADY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NEAL. Mr. Speaker, might I inquire as to how much time is remaining?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Massachusetts has 3½ minutes remaining. The gentleman from Texas has 1 minute remaining.

Mr. NEAL. Mr. Speaker, I am prepared to close on this side, and I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, so in 1 month we have taken the entire revenue system of the United States without hearing from one expert witness, without having had one public hearing, without using any precedent, and we changed the entire tax system of the country, tilting it clearly to the people at the very top.

□ 1230

When they say, as they certainly will, "We have been doing hearings for 5 years," we never had one hearing on this legislation. Not one. We did not seek testimony from one witness in the conference committee. We got to offer opening statements and no amendments. There was no chance for any input on our side.

More than anything else, this is a missed opportunity. This was a missed chance to take a system that we all know to have fallen into competitive failure across the globe. But instead, they decided to go it alone.

So here is the way you want to think of this, for those of you who are following this debate:

They are borrowing $2.3 trillion for the purpose of cutting the top tax bracket from 39.6 percent to 37 percent and calling that middle class tax relief;

They are doubling the exemption on the estate tax to $22 million and calling that middle class tax relief;

They are eliminating the alternative minimum tax for people at the very top and calling it middle class tax relief.

By the 10th year of this tax proposal, 83 percent of the benefit accrues to the people at the very top of our economic system. That is not in dispute.

They say things like: Well, in 5 years, we are going to correct this measure. Then they talked about the idea that somehow this was about simplicity. When you get into the phase-ins and the phaseouts, you are all going to pass out from trying to read this tax proposal.

The complexity they add to the system is unparalleled, all to secure a tax cut for people at the top.

So here we are in the holiday season, and they are telling us, by the way, that if we just borrow this money, everything is going to be fine.

What did they say about borrowing when Bill Clinton was President? What did they say about borrowing when Barack Obama was President?

They lectured us, day in and day out, in an unyielding manner, even though the economic performance of Clinton and Obama outweighed the two Republican Presidents in between.

So here is the game plan for the holiday season. Do you know what the holiday hangover on your credit card is? People go out and use their credit cards, and they figure out all year how to try to pay for it.

It is going to take you more than 10 years to try to pay for this, all upon the spurious notion that they guarantee economic growth, as the President said, by the way, that is going to exceed 6 percent. That is 6 percent.

They are telling us that the stock market has gone up because of them, even though it has gone up since March of 2009. They are telling us now that this is going to spur unparalleled economic growth, even though the economy has been growing for 88 straight months, all on the credit card for the American people.

Mr. Speaker, this is the worst piece of legislation that has come from the House in the 29 years that I have served here, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. BRADY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, I say to my Democratic colleagues: The worst bill in 29 years? With ObamaCare, don't sell yourselves short.

Today, we have a choice to make. We can either stick with the status quo—we just heard it—or we can take bold action to overhaul this broken Tax Code and restore hope, opportunity, and prosperity to Americans.

Our choice is clear, and I have made mine. I will vote to send this bill to President Trump's desk to get real tax reform done for the American people for the first time in 31 years. We will deliver for the American people.

Mr. Speaker, I encourage my colleagues to join me in support of this bill, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. All time for debate has expired.

Pursuant to House Resolution 668, the previous question is ordered on the motion to concur.

The question is on the motion to concur by the gentleman from Texas (Mr. BRADY).

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. NEAL. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, this 15-minute vote on the motion to concur will be followed by a 5-minute vote on suspending the rules and passing H.R. 1159.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 224, nays 201, not voting 7, as follows:

Mr. COSTELLO of Pennsylvania changed his vote from “nay” to “yea.” So the motion to concur was agreed to.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.
